PSYCHICS' BIOS

HISTORY

Psychic Fair Weekend began in April 1986 with just two psychics and a handful of people actually attending the event. In 1988, Sharon and Betty Muldoon were planning a visit to the area when they heard Psychic Fair Weekend would be going on. Interested in what this might entail, they booked a stay at the resort, spent the weekend at one of the first Psychic Fairs, and loved every second of it.

When they got back home to Massachusetts, Sharon could not stop raving about their time to all of her and Betty's co-workers. Sparking an interest in everyone she spoke to, she worked with the Indian Head Resort to bring up a group of about 20 women to the next Psychic Fair. The time finally came, and the girls had such a fun time spending the weekend getting readings, hanging out in the lounge and just enjoying each other's company that they decided to make it an annual trip. They continued visiting the resort every April for Psychic Fair, calling themselves the Stargazers.

But before they knew it, word of the event had spread all over. Sharon and Betty were getting calls from friends of friends asking how they could be a part of the fun and come to Indian Head's Psychic Fair Weekend. Soon enough, word had spread even further and what was once an annual co-workers getaway, turned into a huge event. It had so much demand, we decided to add another weekend in November of 1994 to allow even more Stargazers to join.

Sharon and Betty went on to coordinate all of our Psychic Fair Weekends for years to come. They are both a huge part of the reason why Psychic Fair is what it is today and why so many Stargazers visit us year after year for this special event.

Today we dedicate every Psychic Fair Weekend to Sharon, who passed in 2007. Many of our Stargazers were personal friends with Sharon and remember her as a light in the life of so many. We all know that her legacy lives on in every Psychic Fair Weekend.
